CONSUL GENERAL UYENO DENIES ADVISING THE PLANTERS TO STAY FIRM

Tokio Despatch Is Discredited—Strikers Claim
Certainty of Mainland Aid—More Arraignments.

A direct denial on the part of Consul General Uyeno that he either advised the planters not to accede to the demands of the strikers or advised his government that the strike leaders were anarchists; the arresting, arraigning and admitting to bail of those leaders indicted the previous day for conspiracy to commit murder and the loud claims of these same leaders that they are assured of financial assistance from Japan and the Pacific Coast, were the features of the strike situation yesterday. It is reported that a meeting of the strike leaders was held on Thursday night at which a difference of opinion arose as to the advisability of continuing the strike. Negoro, who is said to have advised peace, denies that any such meeting and any such sentiment are facts.

An uneasy feeling is felt among some of the shareholders of the Hawaii plantations that the demands to be presented by the laborers there to the Planters' Association are to be summarily turned down, the association members having instructed their representatives that the planters of Hawaii are to stand on common ground with the planters of Oahu in meeting all wage raising requests. It is feared that any direct refusal to listen to the requests from Hawaii will result in a general strike on the Big Island, a strike that would be harder to handle than this one on Oahu. The Planters' Association officials have given out no intimation of what they propose to do, however, and it may be that the uneasy feeling is unjustified in every way.

The strike here is beginning to affect the local stocks, Oahu, Ewa and Waialua having shaded off during the week. Oahu opened the week at $31.75 and sold yesterday down as low as $29.75; Ewa has gone off a quarter and Waialua from $92 to $91.

While the leaders in the movement profess to be still in a most sanguine frame of mind, the nerve-racking week they have had has pretty thoroughly cowed them. Makino is the hardest hit. He is commencing to acquire the look of a cornered rat, showing his teeth but watching anxiously for some hole to crawl into and some means of escape for himself. Negoro claims to be looking forward to the time when

GILMAN'S KOA TABLE SET UP

Rescued From Watery Grave
and Its Beauty Again Restored.

Secretary Mott-Smith has received the following interesting letter from Hon. Gorham D. Gilman of Boston:

Boston, May 27, 1909.
Honorable E. A. Mott-Smith,
My Dear Sir:—I wrote you some weeks ago that after over five months' waiting I had received the Koa table sent me by kind friends at Honolulu. The table was so water-soaked by its being sunk in the salt water of Hell Gate that each part had to be separated from its adjoining part and thoroughly dried, after which each part was restored and the table made as complete as when it left the manufacturer in Hilo.

The result is a very fine specimen of Hawaii's beautiful wood, and also of a beautiful piece of furniture. It is a source of constant admiration. The accompanying testimonial hangs near by and tells the story of aloha.

Am I asking too much of you to do the favor to announce through the press that the table has reached its destination, and is most highly prized by the recipient of such a valuable gift?

I would ask that the Hawaiian Gazette might make the acknowledgment, as I see that paper, and thus know that the present was duly made.

Very truly yours,
GORHAM D. GILMAN.

STRIKEBREAKERS' DAILY PAY WIPES OUT OLD ACCOUNTS

"With two thousand strikebreakers working everyday, with about 700 of them Chinese, the town is benefiting in many ways," said Chang Chau yesterday. Chang Chau is grand marshal for all the Chinese strikebreakers.

"The Chinese poi manufacturers are happy nowadays, because their bills are being paid up. The Hawaiians, who got behind, now have cash every day and besides buying steadily for the family larder, they are paying up back debts. There is a Chinese restaurant which gave credit to a large number of Hawaiians and Chinese. They knew most of their patrons very well, but the patrons got behind with their accounts and the restaurant had about $400 which they were ready to wipe off the slate as profit and loss. Since the strikebreakers have been getting their dollar and a half every day, nearly all of that $400 has been paid. It's the same way with the little stores, and many bad accounts have been taken up. The people are patronizing the moving pictures more. Another thing that is important, the Chinese opium joints are not so numerous. Many Chinese who loafed around and frequented these joints are now working and they are leaving opium alone.

"With two thousand strikebreakers on the payroll every day, it means about $3000 cash distributed every evening."

THE SOCIALISTS ARE HEARD FROM

Strike and Strikers Had Their Sympathy Last Night.

In their hall in the McCandless building on the corner of King and Alakea streets, the local branch of the Socialist party held its regular meeting last evening. Matters of local import were discussed, though there were only a few members of the organization present. Those who were in attendance last evening were Jacob Kotinsky, Jos. Whipple, C. M. Albrecht, J. Rosenstein, and one other, name unknown. Jacob Kotinsky read from the stenographic report of the last National Convention of the Socialist party, the extracts which he read dealing with the immigration question. This precipitated a discussion on immigration in general and Japanese immigrants in particular in which some strong statements were made.

NEW PROFESSOR FOR COLLEGE OF HAWAII

The Board of Regents, College of Hawaii at a recent meeting appointed to the position of Professor of Zoology, Mr. William Alanson Bryan.

Professor Bryan comes to this work with peculiar fitness. He received his Bachelor's degree from the Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts in 1896. During his student days he was Assistant in Zoology at the Iowa College and in charge of the College museum. He has served as special lecturer on Museum Methods and Zoological subjects in the University of Minnesota, University of Chicago and Drake University. In 1898 he was Assistant Curator in charge of the Department of Ornithology in the Field Museum of Chicago, and in 1899 he was appointed by the United States Department of Agriculture to investigate the Fauna of Hawaii. From 1900 until 1907 Professor Bryan was Curator of Ethnology and Natural History in the Bishop Museum, Honolulu, and since that time has been promoting the interests of the Pacific Scientific Institution. Professor Bryan is a member of the leading Zoological and Natural History Societies of the U. S. He has written a number of scientific treatises, among them "A Key to Hawaiian Birds" and other technical papers on birds and fishes. He comes therefore to this field of service with a broad training and an intimate acquaintance with both the land and marine fauna of the Islands.

PINEAPPLE PLANTATION BACKER HERE TO OBSERVE

WAIKIKI NOW MURDER SUSPECT

His Story of Whereabouts on Fateful Monday Night Is Contradicted.

"Waikiki," the young Hawaiian who has become involved in the mesh of circumstantial evidence bearing on the mysterious murder of Henry Wetherill of the crew of the Pleiades last Monday night in the Oahu Lumber yard, has so contradicted himself and told such palpable falsehoods that the police think they have got the right man. His evidence before the coroner's jury last night was a tissue of falsehoods, other witnesses clearly proving him to be a liar. His police record, given with his own lips, is a long one, particularly because of fighting and assaults upon Japanese and Chinese. He was arrested in San Francisco and has had trouble with both the deceased and Jim McCandless.

One of the most damaging admissions he made was that he returned to his home about midnight on Monday and was admitted by his brother and saw lying on the bed a boy named Kapili. The brother testified that he went to sleep at 9 p. m. Monday night and awoke about 8 a. m., and never saw Waikiki during the night, nor heard him come in. The door was open all night. Kapili testified that he slept in Kakaako all night and was therefore, not "lying on the bed."

SMALL BLAZE DRAWS CROWD OF THOUSANDS

About nine o'clock last night the fire department was called to the Winston Block, Hotel street, but was not needed after all, as a small blaze starting from an overturned lamp in the room of a Porto Rican couple had already been extinguished by inmates of the building. A small hole was burned in a mattress. The occupants of the room fled.

The alarm served to draw a crowd of between three and four thousand curious people. All the strikers in the neighborhood came into Hotel street like an avalanche. The crowd became so dense that the street car was stalled. Japs fell over each other trying to find out what was going on and some narrowly escaped getting under the wheels of the wagons and hoofs of horses.

Hostility in Japan Toward Uyeno—Tokio Foreign Office Says News Is the Work of Jingo.

(Associated Press Cablegrams.)

TOKIO, June 19.—Special cablegrams from San Francisco to the Japanese papers here indicate that the labor situation in Hawaii is serious. These specials represent that the Japanese in the Islands and on the mainland are incensed to the breaking point by the treatment given the field hands by the planters. They are again arousing anti-American and anti-Uyeno sentiment among the lower classes. Foreign Office officials minimize the news and state that the specials are the untruthful work of jingoes.

[The reference to Mr. Uyeno in the skeletonized draft of this cablegram is not clear. The original reads: "Specials again arousing anti-American sentiment lower class Uyeno. Foreign Office officials minimize, etc." This may mean there is a general anti-American sentiment and that the lower classes are against Uyeno.—Ed. Adv.]

GOVERNOR FREAR BACK FROM HAWAII TOUR

Governor Frear joined the ranks of the "Rough Riders" on his tour of the Island of Hawaii, from which he returned yesterday.

The Kapapala ranch was the objective point of the Chief Executive's visit to the big island. As the ranch is about a hundred square miles in area, it took the best part of five days in the saddle to make the inspection of the boundaries that the Governor desired.

Referring to the object of his visit, Governor Frear stated that he was called upon to consider a number of questions relating to leaseholds, stating that the leases covering the Kapapala lands were set off without much reference to the fences, and that some of the land within the fences is of no value.

"The ranch runs to an elevation of 7000 feet," said Governor Frear. "A forest reservation was a short time ago taken out of what was formerly part of the ranch and trees and vegetation are springing up where the depredating cattle can not enter."

KAMAIIA'S GREETING FROM MID-ATLANTIC

S. S. George Washington via Halifax, June 18.—Mid-Atlantic. Wireless aloha Friday Advertiser, Bulletin, Star.

Inquiry by telephone of the F. W. Macfarlanes last night elicited the fact that Col. George W. Macfarlane is expected to reach the mainland soon from his European trip. The message is probably from him.

LORRIN ANDREWS COMING BACK.

Letters by the last mail from the mainland from Lorrin Andrews are to the effect that he will return to Hawaii at an early date. Since his troubles with Judge Willey in Shanghai, Mr. Andrews has been practicing law in Reno, Nevada. It appears, from the latest advices, that Andrews was acting as counsel for the defense in an important murder trial, at the conclusion of which he expected to start for Honolulu. While it is not definitely known, it is thought that he will arrive here on the next Alameda.
