Wed 3/1/2023 9:52 AM: Another for today ESRC meeting today: KIUC HCP seabird monitoring

There was significant increases in acoustic detections reported over the years. There are different types/models of detectors and mics that have been developed over the years. Are the detector units and mics consistent throughout the years? Do new Sm4 models and new mics contribute to a change in detection rates and is there a correction factor used? Do you track new burrows over the years? How much of increase in new burrows over years? In picture of seabird burrow there was clidemia and guava shown, was this a successful burrow that produced a chick? Are sites with non-native plants successful in producing chicks?
