Russell Tsuji administrator for Land Division-LAND presented item D-4.

Member Downing asked if this should wait until due diligence is done. Tsuji explained that there is a governor's proclamation that is set to expire. Tsuji added that they were asking the board to give the county the land which is given through executive order.

Duane Kurisu with the AIO foundation introduced himself and explained that this request is important for due diligence because they were doing all this pro bono, time is an issue; the executive order is an important part of due diligence.

Donna Leong with the Corporation Counsel, on behalf of Mayor Kirk Caldwell explained that the Governor's emergency proclamation which allows exemptions of city and state code expires on June 22 or 23. They cannot project if the proclamation can be extended. Leong added that they thought this was an idea to affordable housing and the homeless.

Kurisu indicated that this property is not easy to develop, the department looked at other properties but none are ideal as access to schools, employment, and transportation.

Member Gomes asked what the negative issues were. Kurisu said that bringing in sewer and water, and the soil condition were the issues right now.

Member Oi asked what happened to the land at Sand Island that was given to the county for housing for the homeless. Leong responded that it is Hale Maleola, it is up and operational.

Sandy Pfund with the Office of Strategic Development for City and County of Honolulu added that Hale Maleola is a transitional navigation center. The people that are currently there are cycling through and about 50 of them are in permanent housing.

Member Oi added that the state yields a lot of land to the county and majority of the time nothing gets done. Member Oi expressed concerns about how the site is at a flood zone.

Kurisu responded that currently working with the city a conclusion has been made after discussion with all social services agencies; the need now is long term, affordable housing.

Pfund said that Kurisu has done well with entities in assisting with the housing first initiative and providing social services and employees to help the individuals.

Member Woodside asked how the environmental impacts will be addressed during this process. Kurisu explained that they have reached out to seek what issues occur, if there are, they will address them as best as they can.

Member Woodside asked if the city needs to do 343. Pfund said it was not need to due to the governor's proclamation.

Member Woodside expressed concern about the difficulty of the area and asked if the city was prepared for oversight. Pfund responded that they have looked at the sewer water impacts. Kurisu added that they would do their due diligence in satisfying their concerns.

Member Yuen commented that regardless of the governor's proclamation the general environmental codes are still in place. Pfund added that they were not going to waive life safety.

Member Roehrig asked what the history of toxic waste was in this parcel. Kurisu responded that they hired the consultant but have not begun.

Member Roehrig asked what they were going to check for. Kurisu explained that when they do the phase 1, they do a hazardous material survey, if there are potential issues, a phase 2 is implemented.

Member Roehrig asked where they are going to get their equipment to do the testing. Pfund responded that they worked with DOH which came out and provided their analysis and testing plan through a lab based on the phases.

Member Oi felt that if they were going to do phase 1 and test the soil, they would not let children in without doing proper testing.

Member Downing asked how much land the state gave the city and how much more do they have to put homeless on. Pfund responded that the state gave 3 acres, there is a plan to expand it by 12 more units because in that area because of the high traffic, we have limited it to only adults.

Jason Redulla, deputy chief DOCARE, introduced himself. Member Gomes asked why was this conservation congress never held in the US and why Hawaii was picked. Redulla responded that it is the first time held in the US, we do not know the background. Tsuji responded that under the former administrators they pushed to bring the conference to Hawaii, the state has contributed millions.

Member Downing asked what would happen if they don't do the security to the canal. Tsuji responded that they could close it without spending funds. Redulla added that the federal gov. has been in discussions and currently we are on stand-by.

Member Roehrig asked what key issues the IUCN were going to discuss that could bring protestors.

Tsuji said that DOCARE and LAND were not involved in the programming efforts of this conference.

Member Roehrig was not satisfied on voting on this now and what is the level of risk that the board should be considering.

Member Yuen added that the issue is that heads of state could attend and we will not know until the last minute, currently they want security nailed down in anticipation.

Thomas Friel, DOCARE chief, introduced himself and added that DOCARE is preparing for worst case scenarios.
