Subject: [EXTERNAL] Fwd: Opposition to Proposed Land Swap for Military Training Activities at Pōhakuloa
Date: Wednesday, April 17, 2024 12:51:28 PM

Dear Members of the Department of Land and Natural Resources,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed land swap for military training activities at Pōhakula. This proposal, which seeks to exchange state lands crucial for training purposes, poses significant risks to both the environment and public safety.

The state lands in question are vital for military training activities at Pōhakuloa. However, it is important to note that much of the non-state land earmarked for the swap is filled with unexplored ordinances, presenting a serious hazard to both military personnel and civilians. Additionally, the proximity of these lands to the saddle road raises concerns about the safety of civilians accessing this major thoroughfare.

A closer examination reveals that the majority of firing points utilized by the military are situated on state leased lands. Should these lands be lost due to the proposed swap, the military would be forced to reposition firing points onto US lands, potentially endangering civilians passing along a major highway. This poses an unacceptable risk to public safety and must be avoided at all costs.

Furthermore, I am deeply troubled by the implications of the mālama ‘āina findings legal case involving Aunty Max and Uncle Kū. It is evident that the military has failed to comply with the lease conditions and address the findings of this case. The proposed land swap would allow them to continue their actions without being held accountable for their misconduct, effectively bypassing the law and undermining the principles of justice and accountability.

Next to my home in Waiahole, our neighbor valley Waikane, from 1942 to 1976, these 1,061 acres of land were used as a military training and artillery impact area. In 2011, a Removal Action cleared 40 acres resulting in the removal of 42 munitions and explosives of concern (MEC) items... but what about the other 1,019 acres? This land to this day is not vibrant and flourishing as it once was before it was a military training area.

In conclusion, I urge the Department of Land and Natural Resources to reject the proposed land swap for military training activities at Pōhakuloa. Instead, I implore you to prioritize the safety of civilians and the protection of our natural environment by ensuring that the military complies with all lease conditions and legal obligations. Thank you for considering my testimony on this important matter.

Dear Board of Land and Natural Resources,

I am writing to express my vehement opposition to the proposed land swap and lease extension for U.S. Army training areas at Pōhakuloa on Hawaii Island and Kahuku, Kawailoa-Poamoho, and Makua on Oahu.

The very idea of allowing the Army to purchase or exchange these lands after their abysmal track record as stewards of Hawaii's precious natural and cultural resources is outrageous. For decades, the military has treated these sacred lands with utter disregard - littering them with unexploded ordnance, polluting the environment with toxins, destroying native ecosystems, and damaging cultural sites. Pōhakuloa in particular is so contaminated with UXO that it may never be safe for humans to fully access again if the Army is allowed to continue their destructive training.

The Ching/Kahaulelio lawsuit clearly showed that the Army has repeatedly violated the terms of their lease at Pōhakuloa by failing to clean up UXO and debris. And now, they have the audacity to try to trade that contaminated land for new acreage to destroy? This is a slap in the face to the Hawaiian people and to the 'aina itself. The Army must be held accountable for the damage they have wrought, not rewarded with even more land to abuse.

The proposed land swap would also create unacceptable risks to public safety. Repositioning live-fire ranges and artillery firing points closer to roads like the Saddle Road on Hawaii Island is a disaster waiting to happen. How can this even be considered when we've already seen the tragic consequences of the Army's negligence with the 2005 Waikele bunker explosion on Oahu that killed 5 people? The Army's activities are fundamentally incompatible with public safety and environmental protection.

Beyond the safety risks, the very notion of putting a dollar value on these lands to facilitate their sale is deeply offensive. These are not commodities to be bought and sold for the military's exclusive use. The 'aina is a sacred trust, one which the Army has proven time and again they are not worthy of holding.

I beseech the BLNR to outright reject this proposal and any attempts to extend the Army's devastating occupation of Hawaiian lands. When the leases expire, the only acceptable path forward is for the Army to clean up their mess to the most stringent standards and return these precious lands to the stewardship of the Hawaiian people. Anything less is a profound dereliction of your duty as trustees of Hawaii's public lands.

The 'aina and the people have suffered enough. We look to you to do what is pono and truly malama 'aina. Prioritize the restoration of these lands for future generations, not the military's destructive agenda. Reject this proposal and any further attempts to sacrifice Hawaiian lands for the Army's misuse.

Mahalo for your consideration,
A Deeply Concerned Citizen

Over the last 20 years in which collection of the in question species was allowed the populations have grown. This demonstrates that decreased numbers in the past were not the result of over collection. The populations are health and growing and collection should be allowed to resume with oversight.

I oppose the acquisition of Kahuku Motorcross Park by the US army.

Haven't they taken away enough. The military has so much Aina within our Hawaiian Islands in general as it is already & sad to SAY alot if aina has been contaminated enough with there practices unfortunately.

Now they want more & of all places where alot people go to ride & enjoy the beauty that Kahuku Motorcross brings, from its trails & to the track.

Stop taking away most importantly from our keikis that have a passion for riding & for some that's all they know & love to do. There is no place to ride &/or race like Kahuku on the island of Oahu.

Dirtbiking, weather it's trail riding or motocross, it is also a huge way of staying active, healthy & brings Ohana & friends together to enjoy each other's company & fellowship.

There's alot more to it than you all see, know & assume. It also helps to just clear your mind, as if nothing else exist just for that day or weekend of riding & also knowing that you can look forward to having a place to ride. You just can't wait for the week to fly bye & as Friday hits, so does the excitement & a feeling you can't explain that yes, we going riding up Kahuku Motorcross Track tomorrow. With its beautiful sceneries as you make the drive there is already so breathtaking.

Now taking this away from thousands of riders, as mentioned especially the keikis is like taking away a big part of there lives that they love, enjoy passionately & just throwing them to be out on the streets sorta speak.

Dirt biking for them is fun, versatile vehicles that are an excellent alternative to typical motorcycles & a great fit for a lot of folks that don't even realize it as well. The Freedom, perhaps is the best thing about dirt bikes. The fact that they can really take you just about anywhere that becomes an amazing adventure. Because they're capable of navigating practically every type of terrain, they offer you an ability to explore the world around you that you wouldn't otherwise have. Maybe you want to ride through a nearby forest, or explore what's in your area. Dirtbiking at Kahuku Motorcross brings this lifestyle of an unexplainable happiness to alot or majority of us. You feel free there & have the freedom to go check places out no problem while having a blast doing it up there. Most of enjoying GOD'S beautiful creations of his views. There's no place like Kahuku on Ohau that brings versatility, which goes hand in hand with the freedom that you feel up there, weather you're a rider or just a spectator. Dirt biking brings the versatility that it offers there at Kahuku Motorcross Track.

Many of the most skilled riders originally started out by riding dirt bikes there. Having a place to ride like Kahuku is actually much safer than many people think. If you take Kahuku away, some will probably adventure out on the streets that has many obstacles, namely other vehicles, pedestrians & so forth. But with having a place like Kahuku that has been around for generations & praying for generations to come that can have a place still to go dirt biking, you safely remove those obstacles from being present.

With this being said,

SAVE KAHUKU MOTORCROSS TRACK!!!

I am writing to urge you against re-opening Hawaii's waters to commercial fish collection . I consider Hawaii one of the last strongholds for marine life especially species which are found no where else. Millions of tourists visit every year to see this abundance of marine life yet it is quickly disappearing . Our ocean systems are already on the brink of collapse from coral reef bleaching , ocean acidification and overfishing . The collection of fish for commercial use would further endanger Hawaii's incredible marine biodiversity . Hawaii has some of the most unique, beautiful fish species in the world and surely these majestic creatures should remain in their natural habitat , not be exported and thrust into a life limited by a glass box . Hawaii is famous for its pristine oceans, if anything we should be helping preserve this abundance of life not exploit it .

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Opposition to Proposed Land Swap for Military Training Activities at Pōhakuloa
Date: Monday, April 15, 2024 10:28:10 AM

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed land swap for military training activities at Pōhakula. This proposal, which seeks to exchange state lands crucial for training purposes, poses significant risks to both the environment and public safety.

The state lands in question are vital for military training activities at Pōhakuloa. However, it is important to note that much of the non-state land earmarked for the swap is filled with unexplored ordinances, presenting a serious hazard to both military personnel and civilians. Additionally, the proximity of these lands to the saddle road raises concerns about the safety of civilians accessing this major thoroughfare.

A closer examination reveals that the majority of firing points utilized by the military are situated on state leased lands. Should these lands be lost due to the proposed swap, the military would be forced to reposition firing points onto US lands, potentially endangering civilians passing along a major highway. This poses an unacceptable risk to public safety and must be avoided at all costs.

Furthermore, I am deeply troubled by the implications of the mālama ‘āina findings legal case involving Aunty Max and Uncle Kū. It is evident that the military has failed to comply with the lease conditions and address the findings of this case. The proposed land swap would allow them to continue their actions without being held accountable for their misconduct, effectively bypassing the law and undermining the principles of justice and accountability.

In conclusion, I urge the Department of Land and Natural Resources to reject the proposed land swap for military training activities at Pōhakuloa. Instead, I implore you to prioritize the safety of civilians and the protection of our natural environment by ensuring that the military complies with all lease conditions and legal obligations. Thank you for considering my testimony on this important matter.

Sincerely, Jessica Kuzmier, Kona

To whom it may concern,

My name is LeeAnn. I am a native Hawaiian living on the east coast. It saddens me to hear that you are thinking of moving military around on the island. Many Hawaiians are displaced year after year due to natural disasters, price of rent, etc. If you love Hawaii and the money from its tourism then keep the culture and the people untouched. Take all of that money and instead of remodeling, expanding, or negotiating help rebuild Lahaina. It disgusts me that you love the money from Hawaii and you love having your military base on Oahu. Hawaii was illegally overthrown and that was admitted by our president back in the 90's. Preserve the people and the culture. Leave their land alone.

Importance: High

Aloha Members of the Department of Land and Natural Resources,

I live on Hawai`i Island and have watched the military change the shape of the land and society on my island. That's why I'm strongly opposed to the proposed land swap for military training activities at Pōhakula. The potential to further and unnecessarily damage the environment and public safety aren't worth the swap including unexploded ordinance and the proximity of Saddle Road which is now busy with vehicles day and night.

Though state lands in question may be vital for military training activities, it's important to note that much of the non-state land earmarked for the swap is filled with unexploded ordinance which presents a serious hazard to both military personnel and civilians. Additionally, the proximity of these lands to Saddle Road also raises concerns about the safety of civilians accessing this major thoroughfare.

I urge the Department of Land and Natural Resources to reject the proposed land swap for military training activities at Pōhakuloa. Please prioritize the safety of civilians and the protection of our natural environment by ensuring that the military complies with all lease conditions and legal obligations.

Mahalo for taking my views into consideration on this matter which is of vital importance to the people who live on or visit Hawai`i Island and the natural environment which is constantly and increasingly at risk due to imbalanced and unnecessary human activity.

Sincerely,

Date: Saturday, April 13, 2024 1:39:44 PM

I, Etana Solomon, oppose D2.

I am writing to you with great concern regarding the proposed sale of Hawaiian land to the US Army. As a concerned citizen, I urge you to reconsider this decision and take immediate action to protect our precious land from being transferred to military control. Hawaiian land holds immense cultural, historical, and ecological significance to the people of Hawaii. It is not merely a piece of real estate but a sacred part of our heritage and identity. Allowing the US Army to acquire this land would not only undermine our cultural heritage but also threaten the delicate balance of our ecosystem.

Furthermore, the militarization of Hawaiian land poses a threat to the peace and well-being of our communities. Increased military presence can lead to environmental degradation, displacement of indigenous peoples, and social unrest. It is imperative that we prioritize the needs and interests of the Hawaiian people and ensure their rights are protected. I urge you to listen to the voices of the Hawaiian community and act in their best interests by halting the sale of Hawaiian land to the US Army.

Instead, I implore you to explore alternative solutions that promote conservation, sustainable development, and respect for indigenous rights. The decision to sell Hawaiian land to the US Army has far-reaching implications, and it is crucial that we consider the long-term consequences for our land, our people, and our future generations. I urge you to make the right choice and stand with the people of Hawaii in protecting our precious land.

Thank you for your attention to this urgent matter. I trust that you will act in the best interests of the Hawaiian community and ensure that our land remains protected for generations to come.

The military will not care for the land and they will destroy it, my husband is former military and he has told me many of stories where military members leave trash behind when training in kahuku and the higher ups do nothing about it. What would come to our beautiful land if you let them have it? I worked at a motocross shop for 6 years, my boss has put on many races at kahuku, every person that goes to kahuku shops at that store, you'd be taking away so much from him. So many families look forward to Sunday, when they can go to kahuku and ride or race. It's an all day family event/gathering. Before you make the choice to sell land to military please take a trip to kahuku and just see for yourself how much your people love and need it.
